

- + Seven Churches Vol. V Prophetic II
 - + Lectures on Second Coming " XX " IV
- (see below)

Expository, Vols. 1,2,3,4,5,6, that is to say, Vols. XIX, XXX (not XX), XXIV, XXV, XXVI, XXVII, are good, but virtually and more maturely covered by Synopses; but many helpful and short papers are in these which are nowhere else.

Familiar Conversations on Romanism are very simple and interesting though long. These used to be published separately,

- See Vol. XVIII 1st Conv., 2nd, i.e., Doctrinal V
- " XXII 3rd " 4th, 5th and 6th Doctrinal VI
- " XXIX 7th " " VIII

The Evangelical Volumes are sweet, and many an hour I have spent over them - so too the practical. But if time presses:-

(Read anyway "Before Abraham was, I am")

Practical Reflections on the Psalms (can be obtained separately) so too the following obtainable separately:-

- Notes on Matthew
- " " Mark
- " " Luke
- " " John

+ Lectures on Second Coming
(see above)

Every young brother should read:-

+ Moral Glory of the Lord Jesus J.G.B. + Acquaintance with Christ, and Scope of the Truth J.B.S.

+ Discipline in the School of God (is a volume which stands alone and is unique) J.B.S.

(You will not be able to read this all at once)

F.E.R. Vol. II + Lectures on Colossians.

+ III Deliverance and its end (Indeed all this Volume). Vol. III "Man of Faith", etc.

+ V Wilderness and its lessons and various names of Christ. Vol. VII "God's Ways"

+ IX Testimony of the Christ. XIII Joseph type of Christ and Landmarks of ^{etc} Grace in Luke
Vol. XVIII (all) + Vol. XXII (all) (Eternal Life) XXIII (all)

Gospel of John (Two vols. U.S. Readings 1898 and 1902)

Notes on Daniel; and Notes on Revelation by W. Kelly

Lectures introductory to Historical Books (well worth careful study but takes time)

J.G.B. Meditations on Psalms (a small book)

I understand your difficulty. The immense mass of really valuable literature creates a difficulty. Those I have crossed + I think very good and those underlined especially so.

I have found it difficult to select - there are so many good. If you know any Greek, J.N.D. "Greek Article" is very useful.

I doubt if you could read through Collected Writings (since you have a busy life) in less than six years - i.e., one volume in two months. But if anyone would take the trouble they are well worth tackling, but it means a lot of time.

F.E.R. is much easier and a more simple proposition and well worth attempting - all his could be read through in 2½ years easily and would well repay the labour. They are portable books and can be read in trains. (These remarks stand bearing in mind suggestion No. 1).

So I have run on, scribbling down what I thought. Accept with my love in the Lord. May He help you as all the other dear young men. We older ones may be home in a few years - 10 or 20 - and you will then be in the thick of things if we (the Church) are left here - but Christ is coming soon.

Very affectionately yours in Christ,
